

List tasks running on the system

We usually use task manager to check the running process or application on windows system. We can simply run it on command line by

```
taskmgr
```

There is another way can check it instead of launching task manager on command line like below

```
tasklist /v
```

Above is useful if you need to check its process list remotely.